OUR MISSION

Frontline is a charity with a mission to make life better for children at risk of harm, by improving the services that support them.

Hundreds of thousands of children experience or are at risk from abuse and neglect at home, sexual and criminal exploitation outside the home, and other harms. For these children, the right support and protection can make all the difference.

That's why we develop excellent practice and leadership in social work and other children's services. And we are cultivating innovative new approaches to child protection and driving positive systems change for children.

We are looking for enthusiastic individuals from a diverse range of backgrounds to join our organisation and contribute to our work to create lasting social change for children and families. At Frontline we do this while striving to achieve a culture of freedom and responsibility, and working to become a truly anti-racist organisation. Read on to find out more about our culture and what we are looking for in this role.

FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY: OUR CULTURE

To achieve our best work as a charity, we need to both let go of control and expect much more of one another. If we can manage this feat, you will be surrounded by a team who can solve problems, speak with candour, communicate expectations and give one another the space and support to achieve fantastic results for children and families. This is what we call a culture of freedom and responsibility.

How do we make it happen? Freedom without responsibility results in chaos – confusion, frustration, a lack of accountability. Responsibility without freedom breeds a rigid focus on following rules and process, even when professional judgement and creativity would produce better results. It can result in people doing things right without doing the right thing. Because of this, we need to have huge levels of both freedom and responsibility. The most important word is not freedom, nor responsibility, but and.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Frontline is an employer that takes equal opportunity seriously and seeks to walk the talk.

We believe that the strongest performing teams have a lot of difference in them. Our employees come from a range of backgrounds and with various expertise. We are committed to anti-discriminatory practice and are actively seeking to bring people with different lived experiences into the organisation. According to our most recent demographic survey, 30% of our employees are from global majority backgrounds, 6% are disabled, 18 are neurodivergent and 19% identify as LGBTQ+.

We are committed to being an actively anti-racist organisation. For us at Frontline, that means proactively tackling systems and structures that perpetuate and embed racism in our society.

We have a diversity and inclusion working group that includes employees from across all teams and levels including the people team and our senior leadership team. The group leads on recommendations for improvements in this area and implements initiatives to achieve equality for all.

We are committed to taking an inclusive approach to recruitment. We use a system called Pinpoint, which helps to remove bias from the selection process by anonymising applications. We ensure all of our employees have the relevant knowledge to support these aims. We design and deliver regular workshops and training around diversity, inclusion and belonging. We are proud to have won the ENEI Best Smaller Employer Award 2020.

If you're interested in hearing more about diversity and inclusion at Frontline, please feel free to contact people@thefrontline.org.uk.

The purpose of your role

To help us achieve our mission, we are recruiting qualified social workers with direct experience of working with children and families, and knowledge and experience of supporting social work students. We are looking for candidates who can contribute to the delivery of teaching across the year, support participants in their local authority hubs and supervise participants during the 2nd year of Approach Social Work.

Practice Tutors (PTs) play a key role within the development and delivery of our social work curriculum, contributing knowledge and expertise to create a culture that promotes outstanding social work education. PTs are responsible for teaching and developing participants at the Readiness to Practice stage, regional teaching days and, in participant hubs within local authorities.

PTs support four practice hubs, based within statutory children's social care services. Each practice hub is led by a Consultant Social Worker (CSW). Core to the Practice Tutor role is the ability to provide support, challenge and guidance to participants and CSWs to ensure a high-quality practice learning experience.

THE ROLE

Job description:

Applicants need a good understanding of the social work role and can make links with adults' and children's services. To apply you need excellent social work practice skills, experience of developing others and a commitment to educating a new generation of social workers. This role provides the opportunity to genuinely align practice and theory. In doing so you to be a committed to evidence informed practice models and have an appetite to exploring different and innovative approaches to teaching these models.

Key responsibilities:

Practice Learning of Participant Hubs

- Use social work knowledge, theory, practice skill and experience to develop and support participants to become outstanding social workers
- Visit practice hubs regularly and attend some hub meetings, deliver online practice seminars to your hubs and hold individual tutorials with participants. All teaching is a mix of face to face and online to both large groups and smaller multi hubs groups
- Support participants academic progress, provide detailed and timely feedback and mark assignments within set timescales to meet exam board requirements
- Lead reviews of participants' progress in line with programme timelines- Work closely with the participants to progress their journey through the programme. This will involve regular problem solving and emotional support

Consultant Social Workers

- Support CSWs to lead the hubs, role model best social work practice and support effective practice educators
- Use mentoring and coaching techniques to support CSWs to be effective in their leadership, management and practice educator roles
- Support CSWs to hold consistently high-quality hub meetings that embed systemic practice, motivational interviewing and parenting interventions- Develop the CSWs' skills and competence in the CSW role, using agreed competencies and development framework
- Work with placement and partnership managers to ensure the CSW role is understood and valued in the local authority

Teaching

- Teach for year one participants is during the Readiness for Practice stage both in person and online, attend face to face regional recall days and whole cohort online teaching.. There is also online teaching for our year 2 participants on the programme through large lectures, small seminars and one to one support as necessary
- Provide high quality hub teaching and supervise dissertations of 2nd year participants- Contribute to the development of teaching and learning materials and deliver content to the highest possible standard
- Promote the Frontline practice models (systemic practice, motivational interviewing and evidence informed parenting interventions) through all teaching
- Remain up-to-date on research and practice developments, particularly in the field of child protection to provide relevant and targeted support to participants and CSWs- Demonstrate a commitment to knowledge generation through practice based knowledge acquisition and research
